

RBA Capital launches new Structured Finance Group to invest in Loan Syndications

As year-end draws near, I wanted to give you an update on the progress we have made with RBA Capital, the new Structured Finance group Brad Weber, Tim Bricker and I launched in partnership with Royal Bank America.

In our years with Textron and CapitalSource, we worked with many of you putting together loan syndications – at that time from the vantage point of the seller. With the launch of RBA Capital, my colleagues and I have put this “other side of the table knowledge” to work to become a trusted participant for your loan syndications.

With the backing of Royal Bank America, part of the Royal Bancshares of Pennsylvania, Inc. family (NASDAQ: RBPAA) we are positioned to meet your syndication objectives. The real advantage of RBA Capital rests in our ability to become your seamless partner, quickly and intelligently, enabling you to achieve your goals. Additionally, where appropriate we can help review, evaluate and structure any loan facility where our underwriting and due diligence expertise might be of assistance.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss any deals you have currently or on the horizon, and to help you understand the value our organization can bring to the table. I can be reached at 610-293-8008 or via email at aniesen@rbacapital.com.

Best wishes during this holiday season and I look forward to working with you in the New Year.

Regards,
Andy

Andrew J. Niesen
Managing Director
Phone: 610-293-8008
Cell: 267-761-2672
Fax: 610-293-8089
aniesen@rbacapital.com
www.RBACapital.com

RBA Capital
150 N. Radnor Chester Road
Radnor Financial Center, Suite E310
Radnor, PA. 19087